UPDATES FROM HEADQUARTERS

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Chris Wilkerson

SFA Members,

I hope the holidays were enjoyable and 2026 is off to a good start. Here at the Headquarters, the National Board of Officers is staying busy.

In the past few weeks, I've traveled to Florida to represent the SFA during the funeral of recent Gold St Philip Neri award recipient, Phil Hudicourt. During the writing of this message to the membership, I am sitting in the airport returning home from Green Bay after attending a banquet with Chapter 73. My future travels in support of the SFA have Chicago, DC and Tampa on the near horizon. As President of the SFA, I feel it is an obligation and a privilege to attend any event a Chapter requests presence at. Please keep that in mind as you are working on your annual calendar of events. With a bit of forewarning and coordination, I'm happy to travel.

This version of the Drop is the first of several that will be amended and tweaked until we figure out the long-term solution. The printed out version is thinner than the online version, so please check out both. The results of the recent poll conducted on Teamhouse show that the membership is split on how to progress. Some are steadfast in receiving a printed copy, while others are happy transitioning to an online version. Oddly enough, age doesn't play a factor in these results with some of our oldest members preferring the digital version as it allows for zooming in and bigger fonts, while some of our younger members prefer the paper edition that they can keep on a table. This transition is not, nor could it ever be, a one-and-done solution. It will take a few editions for us to determine what the right answer is for long term approval and sustainment. Bear with us, but please provide feedback.

Please watch your mailbox for an envelope coming from National Headquarters. Not only are the annual Memorial Ground raffle tickets being mailed, but the election ballot for your 2026-2028 National Board of Officers is there as well. Paper ballots must be post-marked by 15 May and online voting via Teamhouse will end the same day. This ballot will have one added vote on it - this vote being important as it changes the overall structure of our governing documents, along with how amendments occur in the future. The proposed documents are online and in Teamhouse. There will be a lot of discussion on why we need new documents and what the intent is. Please talk with your Chapter Leadership or contact me directly to understand the intent if needed.

Please ensure you're tracking the progress of SFACON-26. Chapter 7 is doing an excellent job using the playbook for the annual Red Empire week and amplifying it to also support the SFA convention. Not only will our members attending the convention at the 7th SFG flagpole gain awareness of what the current guys are doing, but it is hopeful to increase awareness and membership applications from active-duty soldiers by taking the convention to them. We look forward to maximum participation and hopefully get some members that haven't attended a convention in a while (or ever) to Destin this summer.

THE DIRECTOR'S CUT Mike Goodrich

Membership:

As of 28 February, 2026 there are 11,553 members. The breakdown is: 5,102 (Decade), 5,045 (General), 1,406 (Associate).

Final Formation:

Thanks to Len Cummings for his work creating a searchable database of our fallen members. This can be found in the Documents Section of the Teamhouse. A reminder that all obituaries should come to me to ensure that notification our fallen members is published in the Drop.

2026 Election:

The 2026 election cycle is upon us and I want to encourage all eligible members to cast your vote. Online voting opened on March 1st and paper ballots have been mailed to all 11, 553 members. Please do not vote more than once (online or paper) as it will cause a delay in tabulating the vote total. Historically, the Special Forces Association has had very poor participation in this important event. Take an active role in your Association. Please vote!

The Drop:

The Spring Drop is our first edition since the exit of our long-time publisher. We are working to continue to provide a high-quality publication for each of our members and we understand that the Drop must not only serve our membership, but it also has to be financially viable for the long-term. Expect some changes as we work toward this goal. The new Drop effort is very much a work in progress and your patience is appreciated.

A Tip of the Beret:

Chapter 1-18 hosted SFQC Class 342 for a BBQ and social at the Chapter Teamhouse. Congratulations to all of the newly minted Green Berets. Also, a special thanks to the Special Forces Trust who will be funding the Yarborough Knives that are presented to the SFQC honor graduates.

Finally, a special shout out to Chapters 1-18,100, and 62 for stepping up to assist HQs in getting all 11,533 ballots prepared for delivery. It was a monumental effort and it could not have been completed without their help. It was a shining example of SF brothers doing what they do best-stepping up to make things happen.

'De Oppresso Liber'

Bronze Statue

During the winter following 9/11, U.S. Green Berets fought their way through the daunting mountains of Northern Afghanistan on horseback, the first Americans to do so in over fifty years. And nobody knew...

In 2002, upon their return from these missions, sculptor Douwe Blumberg worked closely with 5th group on this statue to ensure the historical event was portrayed accurately and respectfully.

2018 saw the dedication of the monumentally-scaled version, 'America's Response Monument' at Liberty Park, appropriately overlooking Ground Zero.

This 16" tall bronze is the original sculpture from which that monument found its inception. This signed and numbered bronze is only available directly from the artist.

Historic Recognition: Five Warriors Receive America's Highest Honor

Feature Article - Doug Livermore

In an unprecedented display of military recognition, five Medal of Honor recipients were announced in a single week in February 2026, spanning conflicts from World War II to modern special operations.

The recognition of these five warriors: Chief Warrant Officer 5 Eric Slover, Captain Royce Williams, Master Sergeant Roderick "Roddie" Edmonds, Staff Sergeant Michael Ollis, and Command Sergeant Major Terry Richardson, represents not only individual acts of valor but also reflects a growing movement within the Department of Defense to revisit historical military awards and ensure that acts of heroism are properly recognized, even decades after the fact. These awards highlight an important evolution in how the nation honors its heroes, particularly as legislative changes have removed arbitrary time limitations that previously prevented deserving service members from receiving the Medal of Honor.

The two awards presented during the February 24, 2026

State of the Union address---to Slover for his actions in Venezuela just weeks earlier and to Williams for aerial combat during the Korean War 74 years prior---created a powerful juxtaposition between contemporary special operations and Cold War-era classified missions. The announcement of three additional Army recipients, whose ceremony is scheduled for March 2, 2026, further underscores the commitment to ensuring valor never goes unrecognized, regardless of when it occurred.

Chief Warrant Officer 5 Eric Slover represents the elite tier of U.S. Army aviation, serving with the legendary 160th Special Operations Aviation Regiment (Airborne), known throughout the military community as the "Night Stalkers." This unit, based at Fort Campbell, Kentucky, maintains the the Army's most demanding aviation standards and conducts the most sensitive special operations missions globally.

Slover's career trajectory exemplifies the progression of special operations aviators. As a master aviator and senior warrant officer, he had accumulated thousands of flight hours in the MH-47 Chinook helicopter, the workhorse of special operations aviation. The MH-47, a heavily modified version of the standard CH-47 Chinook, features advanced avionics, defensive countermeasures, aerial refueling capability, and specialized equipment for inserting and extracting special operations forces in hostile territory.

Despite his wounds, Slover executed evasive maneuvers to position his helicopter's door gunners for effective return fire, suppressing enemy positions while simultaneously lining up for the landing. He maintained precise control of the forty-ton aircraft, ensuring that the special operations forces could egress safely and rapidly to begin the assault. Only after every commando had departed the helicopter did Slover allow his crew to begin emergency medical treatment.

The raid successfully captured Maduro, who was subsequently extradited to the United States to face federal charges. However, the operation came at significant cost. In addition to Slover's severe injuries, several other service members were wounded, and temporary power outages affected parts of Caracas as the assault force secured the objective.

The Award and Recovery

When Lieutenant General Jonathan Braga, head of Joint Special Operations Command, placed the Medal of Honor around Slover's neck during the State of the Union address, the wounded aviator stood with the assistance of a walker. He remained on active duty, undergoing extensive rehabilitation for his injuries while his award citation was being processed.

Slover's citation specifically recognized his "extraordinary heroism and conspicuous gallantry at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty." The citation detailed how he "placed the mission and his fellow warriors above his own survival," demonstrating the "decisive courage and uncommon valor" that define Medal of Honor recipients.

With Slover's recognition, the total number of Medal of Honor recipients rose to 3,530 since the award's creation during the Civil War, with 63 living recipients. Slover became the first Medal of Honor recipient recognized for actions during Operation Absolute Resolve in Venezuela, adding a new chapter to the Medal's history.

AFGHANISTAN, A HISTORY ALREADY FORGOTTEN

COUNTERINSURGENCY LESSONS U.S. SENIOR MILITARY LEADERS MUST NOT IGNORE

BY DANIEL RIX AND DOUG LIVERMORE
DECEMBER 31, 2025

The United States fought a counterinsurgency in Afghanistan for almost 20 years, resulting in the loss of 2,448 U.S. military, 3,846 U.S. contractors, over 100,000 Afghan lives, and costing trillions of dollars.

“This article identifies clear strategic failures throughout this counterinsurgency that the United States must learn from and endeavor never to repeat.”

— Daniel Rix

Bookended by al-Qaeda’s attacks on the U.S. homeland and Afghans clinging desperately to the tires of an Air Force C-17 during the evacuation of Kabul while Marines were slaughtered at Abbey Gate, the war in Afghanistan will be remembered as one of the greatest strategic losses in American history. Worse than the collapse of the South Vietnamese government, which persisted for two years after U.S. troop withdrawals, Ashraf Ghani’s Afghan government fell even before the U.S. military frantically departed the Hamid Karzai International Airport. Even the Soviet-backed Afghan government remained in power for three years after the Red Army left, highlighting the ineptitude of U.S. conduct in this conflict.

This article identifies clear strategic failures throughout this counterinsurgency that the United States must learn from and endeavor never to repeat. An inability for U.S. senior military leaders to understand them and effectively apply appropriate lessons in a future counterinsurgency or hybrid war, in which counterinsurgent and irregular warfare tactics will indeed manifest, will result in more lives lost unnecessarily and another U.S. strategic failure.

The task of postmortem on America’s longest war is, no doubt, a massive undertaking. One that scholars, politicians, and military experts will debate for years to come. Many intellectuals will delve deeply into the failures in Afghanistan, such as the congressionally mandated Afghanistan War Commission. There will be no shortage of analyses and opinions on why the most powerful nation in the world lost a counterinsurgency war against a financially, technologically, and tactically inferior group of insurgents. This article seeks to add to the body of knowledge in a small way by identifying clear counterinsurgency failures in the campaign to root out the Taliban. It focuses on the counterinsurgency against the Taliban, not on counterterrorism targeting al-Qaeda, though the latter is used to explain failures of the former. It also does not attempt to address the counterinsurgency in Iraq, which no doubt limited resources into Afghanistan. Finally, it will not describe the interplay between other sources of instability, such as the Haqqani Network in eastern Afghanistan. Though not comprehensive, this article identifies six strategic failures largely based on David Galula’s Counterinsurgency Warfare: Theory and Practice, recognizing that there are other counterinsurgency frameworks with which to conduct analysis. David Galula, a veteran of World War II and the Algerian War, observed and experienced several insurgencies before codifying a simple framework of complex principles to counter seditious activities.

Failure 1: Counterterrorism vs. Counterinsurgency, Lacking an Enduring Cause

An insurgency is a protracted struggle designed to overthrow an existing power, which is measured in years and decades rather than months. The longer the struggle, the better it is generally for an insurgency as it takes root within the populace. Mao Zedong’s establishment of the People’s Republic of China in 1949, for example, was preceded by years of guerrilla warfare against Chiang Kai-shek’s Nationalists and Japanese invaders. Mao’s theory of insurgency allows for an insurgency to move back and forth between phases – latent and incipient organization, guerrilla warfare, and conventional “war of movement”– as conditions require to ensure survival. Additionally, there can be synchronized efforts between conventional and insurgent forces, or hybrid warfare, based on the need as was the case of North Vietnamese Army regulars and Viet Cong insurgents operating in different areas in South Vietnam against U.S. and South Vietnamese forces. Throughout this protracted struggle and its shifting phases, an insurgency needs a galvanizing cause that helps drive a wedge between the people and the established government.

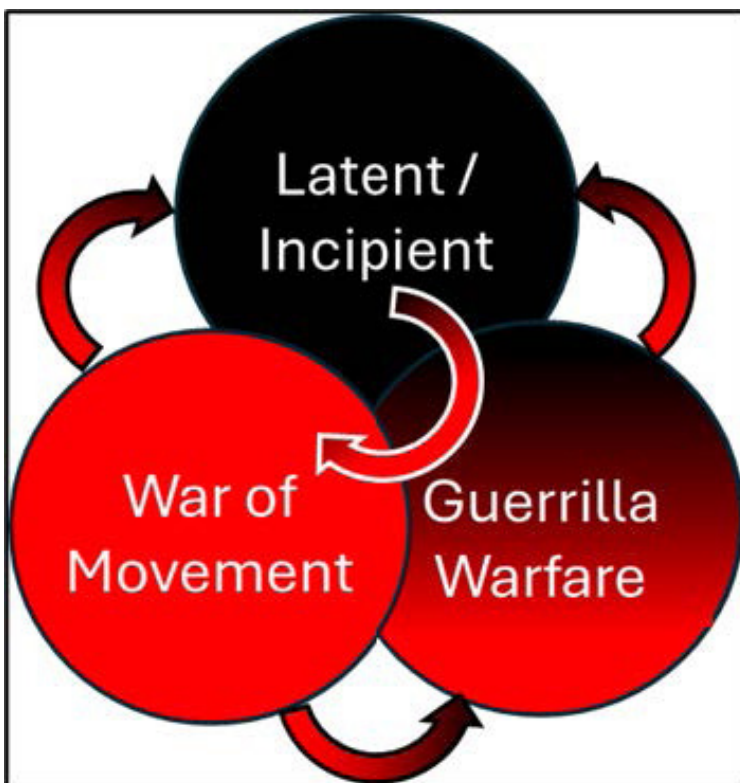

The counterinsurgent must have an equally compelling cause. Though the United States had the political will to fight a counterinsurgency in Afghanistan for almost 20 years, spanning four presidencies – no small feat – it lacked a coherent and enduring cause or overarching goal to unify the Afghans, and by extension, the American people, against the Taliban. From the heights of optimism following the ouster of the Taliban in late 2001, Afghan popular support for the subsequent governments of Hamid Karzai and Ashraf Ghani saw a consistent downward spin in approval amid widespread incompetence, corruption, and tribal cronyism – issues that the Taliban had popularly positioned themselves against in their initial rise in 1994.

The United States’ justifiable cause in the early days after the terrorist attacks on September 11, 2001, was counterterrorism focused: punish and defeat al-Qaeda for perpetuating the largest terrorist attack on America. The Taliban regime was merely a stumbling block to get to this terrorist organization. Their refusal to hand over Osama bin Laden , al-Qaeda’s leader, to the United States put them in the crosshairs of military action beginning on October 7, 2001.

Aside from installing the rag-tag Northern Alliance and providing humanitarian aid, there was no holistic U.S. counterinsurgent strategy to consolidate gains after toppling the Taliban regime, let alone a unifying cause around which to rally the Afghan people. In fact, the U.S. National Security Strategies (NSS) throughout this conflict highlighted the counterterrorism efforts in Afghanistan with little to no mention of counterinsurgent activity, lumping the Taliban in with al-Qaeda as a terrorist organization instead of an insurgent group.

This gave the remnants of the Taliban regime time to morph back into an insurgency and codify their own cause (and legitimacy) against a foreign “infidel” power. Though a stated cause becomes less important as the conflict drags on and the people pine for a clear winner, in the latent or incipient stages of an insurgency, it is the driving force behind the movement. Unfortunately, the failure of the United States to help provide an indigenous-led cause to the Afghan people gave the Taliban an open door to exploit for their own purposes.

Masters of Mayhem: A Landmark Study in the Birth of Modern Unconventional Warfare

A Review of Masters of Mayhem: Lawrence of Arabia and the British Military Mission to the Hejaz by James Stejskal

Book Review - Doug Livermore

In Masters of Mayhem: Lawrence of Arabia and the British Military Mission to the Hejaz, James Stejskal delivers a masterful exploration of the origins of modern special operations and unconventional warfare. Far from being another biographical treatment of T.E. Lawrence, this exceptional work examines the collective efforts of the British Military Mission (BMM) that operated in the Arabian Peninsula during World War I, revealing how a small cadre of irregular warfare specialists pioneered tactics and operational concepts that would shape military doctrine for generations to come.

Stejskal brings unique credibility to this historical analysis. As a former U.S. Army Special Forces officer who served thirty-five years as a "Green Beret" and CIA case officer, he understands unconventional warfare not merely as an academic concept but as a lived reality.

His career included two tours with the elite Special Forces Berlin unit during the Cold War, where he conducted clandestine operations behind potential Warsaw Pact lines, and later service with the CIA in numerous high-risk environments worldwide[3]. This operational background allows Stejskal to read the historical record with an expert's eye, recognizing in the actions of Lawrence, Stewart Newcombe, Pierce Joyce, and their Arab allies the fundamental principles that would later underpin British SAS operations, American Special Forces doctrine, and modern counterinsurgency campaigns.

What makes Masters of Mayhem particularly significant for scholars and practitioners of military strategy is its focus on the WWI Arabia campaign as a crucible for unconventional warfare methodology. Stejskal meticulously traces how the BMM developed and refined tactics that remain foundational to special operations today: striking where the enemy is weakest, achieving surprise through mobility and intelligence, working "by, with, and through" indigenous forces, and creating effects disproportionate to the resources committed.

The book excels in its detailed examination of the technical and tactical innovations that emerged from the harsh crucible of desert warfare. Stejskal provides fascinating insights into demolition techniques, including the development of "tulip mines"—thirty-ounce guncotton charges placed under railway sleepers that, when detonated, twisted rails and ties into flower-like shapes that made repair nearly impossible[5]. These were not random acts of sabotage but carefully calculated operations designed to maximize operational impact while minimizing risk to the attacking force. The systematic campaign against the Hejaz Railway demonstrated how a relatively small force, properly employed with good intelligence and indigenous support, could paralyze Turkish military logistics and tie down thousands of enemy troops across hundreds of miles of territory.

Joint SOAS/SFA POW/MIA Committee Update

The government shutdown last October resulted in several governmental operations. Specifically, with the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency (DPAA). During the shutdown only those agencies declared essential were allowed to function. DPAA was not on the list of essential agencies. As a result, all DPAA government employees were furloughed and not allowed to work. They were not even allowed to access their government computers or other tech devices. Military personnel assigned to DPAA were not furloughed, but all travel was restricted. The only civilians allowed to work were government contractors.

Needless to say, this all significantly hampered DPAA's ability to continue with their mission on the recovery and identification of unaccounted for service members. More specifically, the missions in Southeast Asia (the Vietnam War) efforts were brought to a standstill. Joint Field Activities teams and Investigation teams currently in Vietnam and Laos were forced to stand down and return to their home bases. Planned operations were halted. All of this was a major setback, because in many cases permits and authorizations expired requiring new negotiations with the host countries.

Moving on the FY2026, DPAA has regenerated their efforts in recovery operations in Southeast Asia. They have missions planned to begin in early FY2026 with three recovery teams in Laos and two in Vietnam where there will also be one investigation mission. Unfortunately, the recovery missions they had scheduled for first quarter of 2026 will be delayed until first quarter FY2027. However, DPAA hops to fit in the investigation missions into FY2026.

As a side note, FY2025 was relatively a good year for recoveries and identifications. There were eight remains identified from the Vietnam War. Although this seems insignificant, it is double the number in recent years. Unfortunately, none were members of Special Forces units. The current number of unidentified service member from the Vietnam War is currently 1,566.

On 11 DEC 2025, Chapter XIX was invited by the NJ 82nd Airborne Association to attend the annual West Point Football Run. Cross Country and Marathon Teams from the academy run the football from West Point to the Army-Navy Game venue. The 82nd sponsors a lunch for the cadets and their NJ State Police escort.

"11 Days" (Op Pineapple Express) is a powerful one-man show written and performed by retired Green Beret Scott Mann, author of the bestselling book Operation Pineapple Express. The play tells the true story of the final days of the U.S. withdrawal from Afghanistan, where ordinary veterans worked against the clock to rescue Afghan allies left behind. Chapter XIX was invited by LTC Scott Mann for the final New York Show on 24 JAN 2026. This was a very powerful performance which we highly recommend for everyone. Very interesting Q&A right after the show with great questions by civilians and military alike.

Bill served as a Navy crewman on a torpedo bomber and was shot down in WWII near Palawan. He served as a Ranger School instructor with John "Ranger" Roy at Mountain Phase in Georgia. He then served in Korea with UNPIK and later was the operations sergeant for the 5th SFGA in Vietnam and other operations.. Still sharp as a tack he helped lay the foundations for what it was like to be a Ranger and a Green Beret. What a history! In November, the National Ranger Memorial Foundation and the National Infantry Association hosted the 55th Son Tay Raider Reunion, honoring the legacy of the Son Tay Raiders and commemorating our shared history and contributions of MACV-SOG, MIKE Force, and POWs. Chapter members MG Ken Bowra briefed on MACVSOG, MAJ Willie Merkerson briefed on Mike Force, and Ray Oden represented the chapter at the showing of the documentary film "27 Minutes at Son Tay," which the chapter helped to fund. The Raiders were all awarded the Infantry's Order of Saint Maurice and feted with a beautiful banquet at the National Infantry Museum, a wreath-laying at the National Ranger Memorial, and a Q&A with the Ranger Regiment, the Ranger Training Brigade cadre, and the current OCS class and the OCS Cadre. The Raiders were all awarded the Infantry's Order of Saint Maurice. The final event of the reunion was the screening of the documentary film "27 Minutes at Son Tay," for which Chapter XI members David Jackson, Frank Levesque, Dan Packa, and Ray Oden served as historical advisors. The DVD or Digital Release of the movie "27 Minutes at Son Tay" is now out for pre-order with a delivery date of March 2026. <https://27minutesatsontay.com/pre-order-live/>

Chapter 17 has republished Col Jerry Sage's Memoir. In his Memoir, SAGE, COL Sage recounts his experiences as a German POW during WWII. This book was the basis for the movie, The Great Escape. Jerry Sage was an OSS officer who was captured by the Germans during WWII. During his three years of captivity in a German POW camp, Sage helped work on the three-tunnel escape project that helped form the plot for the movie The Great Escape. After WWII, he commanded a Regimental Combat Team in the Korean War and commanded 10th SFGA in Europe during the Cold War. He completed his lifetime of public service as "Teacher of the Year" in South Carolina. Check the book's web site at www.oldmp.com/sage to order paperback, hardback, and hardback limited edition. A link to the Kindle version of the book is also on the web site. Chapter 17 is in the process of reprinting another historical book, this time about the Vietnam War: Mike Di Rocco's Fire Your FPL's. Look for it to come out later this spring/summer! About Di Rocco's book per Lieutenant General William P. Yarborough, "Beautifully written, professional level writing. I was especially impressed with Mike's powers of recall in recreating so much of the environment of wartime Vietnam. No one who was not involved in that fracas as intimately as Mike, could speak with such accuracy and authority about equipment, tactics, and techniques." At our last meeting on 7 February 2026, Seaux Larreau led a lively discussion about Special Forces' support to Helene disaster rescue efforts, emphasizing the need to formalize some of our existing qualifications to support future emergencies. The Jingle Bell Jog 2025 - The season kicked off with the Jingle Bell Jog, where the 7th SFG(A) community traded their kit for holiday hats and running shoes. The Chapter 7 president and vice president support a gold star family engagement.

While the winter chill finally settled over the Emerald Coast, Chapter 7 remained as active as ever, trading fall sports for holiday traditions and formal attire. This quarter, the chapter shifted its focus toward honoring the fallen, celebrating our current quiet professionals, and maintaining the festive spirit that defines our community. In a more somber but deeply meaningful tribute, Chapter 7 members joined the local community for Wreaths Across America at Beal Memorial Cemetery in Fort Walton Beach. It was a powerful morning of reflection as volunteers placed wreaths on the graves of our nation's heroes. Seeing the Green Berets among the sea of volunteers served as a poignant reminder of our commitment to "Never Forget," ensuring that the legacy of those who served before us is honored with dignity and respect by every generation. The quarter reached its peak with the 7th Special Forces Group Winter Formal. It was a night of elegance and tradition, providing a rare opportunity for our operators and their spouses to step off the range and into the ballroom. The evening was a perfect blend of honoring our unit's storied history and celebrating the strength of the families who support the mission every day. From the toasts to the dance floor, the formal served as a well-deserved moment of celebration for the hardest-working group in the Army. As we look toward the New Year, the Emerald Coast continues to be a bastion of support for our veterans. Whether we were supporting a fun-run or standing in silence among the headstones, Chapter 7 remains dedicated to giving back to the community that gives so much to us. The rest of the country might be hunkering down for the freeze, but here in the Panhandle, we're just getting warmed up for another year of service and brotherhood. De Oppresso Liber!

During the opening ceremony, he spoke to the dozens of family members and volunteers there to place Christmas wreaths by the headstones of some 23,000 veteran graves. Our member Pat Mulvihill, who is also on the cemetery volunteer support staff, helped with organizing the event.

"When we look upon these wreaths, let them remind us that courage is not only found on a battlefield. It is found in the quiet moments of choosing to live, to serve, to remember, and to hope." Heffernan said, "Thank you for being here. Thank you for honoring our heroes. Applications are now close for 2025. Please continue preparing submissions for the March 15, 2026, scholarship cycle as well. By-Laws Revision Over the summer, the chapter undertook a comprehensive review of its By Laws, originally written in 2009. The primary issue addressed concerns how members are notified of votes and what constitutes a quorum, as meeting attendance is often low. The proposed solution requires notifying all members 30 days before any meeting that will include a vote, ensuring a quorum is present. Having missed the past 2 cycles of the DROP, this article will include updates on Chapter 92 activities for several months. Chapter membership continues to grow, we are at 101 members, despite the passing of 3 of our members and 2 of our SF brothers, who were not SFA members in 2025. Regular monthly meetings are held at VFW Post 2702 in Huntsville, on the 1st Saturday of the month. The June 14th meeting was held in Rainbow City, AL, at the Western Sizzlin Steak House. In attendance: 6 guests Betty Mize, Joel Haney (Betty Mize's son-in-law), Mary Crittendon, COL(R) Joe and Mary Creel Patriots Association, Tim Ramsey Etowah County Commissioner, 10 of the 20th Group Society members and 7 SFA Chapter 92 members for roughly 25. Following the meeting we had a police escort to the cemetery and grave of Col Ola Lee Mize, MOH, performing our annual reading of his MOH citation with honors rendered. On August 21st, 2025, 11am the VA Gunterville Clinic was renamed the COL Ola Lee Mize VA Clinic, after being introduced into and passed by the US House of representatives by Congressman Robert Aderholt on 11-24-2024. Upon completion of the ceremony, we took MS Betty Mize to Wentzell's Oyster House for lunch and presented her with an SFA Chapter 92 membership. In addition to the regular September business meeting members gathered 9-13-2025, for a BBQ lunch at Old Greenbrier Restaurant, in Madison, AL. for food, fellowship and camaraderie, with 11 members and 10 spouses and friends, a total of 21. Our Chapter President was invited to Ft Benning, GA for the 55th Son Tay Raiders reunion 20-22 November. He helped fund raise and find declassified reports for Operation King Pin and Ivory Coast for the Documentary that was shown and is supposed to be finally ready for release and sale in March 2026. It was immensely humbling experience and another item checked off my bucket list. The Chapter once again gathered at Texas de Brazil 12-6-2025, in Huntsville for our annual Christmas party and dinner. In addition to great food, we held a silent auction raising $450 to support the ROTC scholarship fund. The chapter currently has 19 JROTC High Schools and 9 SROTC Colleges programs that we will support in 2026. Election of new officers was also completed in December and are listed above and on Chapter 92 website.

We also heard from the recipient of our fall MSG Tom Kyle Educational Assistance Grant, currently attending UT Austin, who expressed her gratitude for the assistance the chapter has provided her in purchasing books and other items required for her Pre-Medicine studies. Finally, we facilitated the donation of $400 of grocery store gift cards to Soldiers in need of some extra cash around the holidays, through the Camp Mabry Family Readiness Group. We had a great Christmas party at the Double Tree Hotel in Mesa. It was a new venue for us and we had a great turnout of members. The food was excellent, and we had lots of raffle prizes. The winner of the 1911 .45 handgun was Doug Fuhrman, who donated it back to the chapter. We also installed officers for the next two year term, with Dan DuRocher stepping up (again) to take the reins as President. Unfortunately, the chapter suffered the loss of one of our long-time members, Les "Zero" Parrish. He will be missed by all who knew him. Spring seems to have arrived a little early this year, and it will be a busy time for the Chapter as we will be recognizing outstanding JROTC Cadets throughout the valley. We will also have our Spring Fling event in Tucson at the Chuck Ford Park April 18th, and a second day trip to the Titan II Missile museum. In addition, we will make our annual trip to Safford for Memorial Day weekend (30 May) and conduct a gravesite ceremony for our Chapter namesake, Walter Bruce Foote. Looking ahead, July 10-12 we will have our Summer Getaway. We will be returning to Alpine AZ, located in the White Mountains of eastern Arizona. We have a "block" reservation at the Tal-Wi-Wi Lodge in Alpine; there are some great restaurants in the area, and as always, we will be conducting some weapons "familiarization" firing. across the Indo-Pacific region, bridging the gap between active-duty forces and those who have gone before them. For Chapter VIII members, many of whom served in complex operational environments, these gatherings underscored the continuity of the profession and the shared identity that binds Special Operations Forces across time, units, and missions. December carried particular weight and significance. On December 7th, Chapter VIII proudly participated in the Pearl Harbor Parade, commemorating the anniversary of the 1941 attack. The event remains one of Hawai'i's most solemn and historically important observances. Marching in remembrance, chapter members honored the fallen of Pearl Harbor while reflecting on how that pivotal moment reshaped American military history.

Phil Hudicourt and Chris North in Baghdad, 2009.

SFA attends Phil Hudicourt's Funeral.

Lo, there do I see my father. Lo, there do I see my brothers. Lo, there do I see the line of my people, Back to the beginning. Lo, they do call to me. They bid me take my place among them, In the halls of Valhalla, Where the brave may live forever! Phil Hudicourt would have said these words had he been able--his brothers gathered in Florida to see him to his final rendezvous. Phil Hudicourt's US Army active duty military career was exceptional, always serving on the cutting edge--paratrooper, ranger battalion, special forces, the Joint Special Operations Command (JSOC) staff, and two years combat employment as a Special Mission Unit (SMU) operator. Also exceptional was his 23-year service as a contractor supporting U.S. forces and objectives, including 17 years in combat zones and 6 years foreign internal defense (FID). Phil was a warrior--recipient of the 2025 SFA Gold St Philip Neri award--his numerous achievements and exploits are found on Teamhouse. He steadily rose through the ranks of Falcon Security in Iraq as all his predecessors were killed, mostly performing convoy security. Phil was the fourth president of SFA-91 (Iraq). Phil's daughters, Michelle and Rebecca, hosted a memorial well-attended by his family. From the SFA were Prez Chris Wilkerson, two SFA-91 past presidents, and John Schuler (SFA-38). Also COL (Ret) Jim Mowery from 2-505 ABN service and Lee Sharon from 2-75 RGR days. COL Mowery said Phil was the finest NCO he ever knew. Rebecca, who accepted the St Philip Neri award for her father last year, is an honorary member of SFA 91-101 and expects to attend SFACON 2026. Phil's funeral was well conducted and attended by the SFA. His brothers from the Patriot Guard Riders led the procession, including John Gilio and Jeff Garten (SFA-76), Charlie Gates (SFA-60), and Bill Yeider (SFA 1-18). SFA President Chris Wilkerson gave a respectful tribute at the ceremony. Also attending were SFA-85 President Pete Marceau, Chris North and Phil Crowley (SFA 91-101), all who knew Phil Hudicourt well in his downrange years. Lee County, Florida dedicated a portion of Veterans Parkway--between the Midpoint Bridge and the toll booth--as the: "Captain Daniel W. Eggers Memorial Highway," honoring Captain Daniel W. Eggers, killed in Afghanistan on May 29, 2004. Captain Eggers served with the 1st Battalion, 3rd Special Forces Group (Airborne) at Fort Bragg. He was killed when his vehicle struck an improvised explosive device in Zabul Province, Afghanistan. The U.S. military previously honored him by renaming the Kabul compound Camp Eggers in 2005. Dan's father, Bill, is an honorary SFA 91-101 member and expects to attend SFACON.
